American Marketing Association | Chicago IL | Senior designer | 2002-2010

The AMA is a professional association for individuals and organizations leading the practice, teaching and development of marketing knowledge worldwide. As sole designer in the publication department was responsible for the design, production and print management of bimonthly and quarterly national magazines, academic journals, book covers, CD packaging, presentations and marketing collateral. Responsibilities included managing editorial and design reviews, coordinating advertising, negotiating vendor contracts, managing print schedules and maintaining digital archives.

The Bulletin of Atomic Scientists | Chicago IL | Freelance designer | 1993-1999

The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists informs the public about threats to the survival and development of humanity from nuclear weapons, climate change, and emerging technologies in the life sciences. As graphic designer of their award-winning magazine my responsibilities included photo research, conducting design and editorial reviews and managing print production.

Black Cat Productions | Chicago IL | Graphic designer, Production assistant | 1992-1994

Black Cat Productions develops independent features and social issue documentaries, especially those focusing on strong women and queer content. As in-house graphic designer I was responsible for producing print collateral and packaging for educational program series, identity systems, workbooks and promotional press kits. Administrative duties included daily office operations, managing client meetings and providing technical production assistance on set.
